Abstract: The GIS Inventory (GISI) is an important complement to the National Spatial Data Infrastructure (NSDI) that provides a robust “living” inventory of geospatial data, directory of geospatial professionals, and fosters production of metadata by those organizations that haven’t adopted the FGDC Metadata Standard in actual practice. The GIS Inventory allows users to quickly search for GIS data and practitioners to meet their business requirements. It also helps government agencies to effectively coordinate and build Spatial Data Infrastructures. We’ll look at some of the recent changes in the GISI and what to expect in the coming year.
